About ICAR-NDRI

ICAR- National Dairy Research Institute (NDRI), Karnal is the renowned institute undertaking research, teaching, and extension activities for dairy development in India. ICAR- NDRI conducts basic and applied research aiming to enhance productivity and to develop cost-effective technologies for income enhancement of dairy farmers. Further, it provides high-quality manpower to meet the human resource requirements for the overall dairy development in the country. Over the last several decades, the institute has been continuously striving to fine-tune its R&D and HRD programmes to better serve the nation in terms of food and nutritional security, human resource generation, technology dissemination, and economic prosperity of dairy farmers.

About the workshop

High-end workshop titled "Advanced training in unravelling the functional and nutraceutical properties of milk protein ingredients" is formulated with the objectives to provide hands-on-learning opportunities to students and scholars on processing techniques intended for functional milk protein ingredients manufacture and analytical techniques for determining milk protein functionality. In this workshop, manufacture of different milk protein ingredients, isolation of bioactive peptides, determination of techno-functional attributes of milk protein preparations and their bioactivity in vitro and bioinformatics of milk proteins will be covered. Also, interventions to improve the functionality of milk proteins through interactions with plant constituents, analytical techniques to determine their interactions and functionality will be covered.

Eligibility

Students currently pursuing Masters or Ph.D. in Dairy Technology/Dairy Chemistry/Dairy Microbiology/Dairy Engineering/Food Technology/ Biochemistry/life Science or any other related disciplines at Government Universities, Colleges or private academic institutions are eligible to apply.
